WEEDSTICK

PRECISION

The hand-held Weedstick is a precision applicator for the selective application of herbicides to individual weeds. It puts weedkiller precisely where it is needed - on the weed. There is no risk of any spray drift so you can even use it on windy days.

The Weedstick has significant advantages over conventional methods of application such as knapsack sprayers for spot applications or using herbicides in sensitive areas e.g. flower beds.

The Weedstick is simply placed over the weed to be controlled and pressed down to deliver a dose of herbicide - once for small weeds, twice for large weeds.

Use the Weedstick when the ground is moist and the weeds are growing well. The ideal time for treatment is between late spring and late summer.

- Light to carry and easy to use
- No risk of drift
- Economical
- Minimal water requirement
